Law offices require robust technology that can quickly produce large volumes of high-quality hard copy documents, while boosting productivity and simplifying print management. A versatile, hard-working addition to busy law offices

Custom functions are all easily accessed through icons on the MFP's user-friendly touch screen, allowing attorneys and administrative staff to complete complicated workflow processes easily – and without special training.

Immediate access to a suite of powerful law office workflow solutions

Forms on Demand

Legal and administrative staff are often too busy to log in to a workstation every time they need to locate a document and print it. Forms on Demand allows them to quickly and easily access and print forms at the Dell Legal Print Station:

- Easy to set up and configure from the MFP operator panel.
- Allows you to program descriptive names to Internet or intranet URLs for easier form retrieval.
- Reduces cost of printing and storing preprinted forms, in addition to eliminating waste associated with obsolete forms.

Scan to Court

Since many courts limit the size of electronic files they will accept, this application allows law firms to set file limits for scanned jobs destined for court delivery. If a job exceeds the limit, the Dell Legal Print Station is designed to either stop the scan job and allow the user to adjust the scan settings, or automatically separate it into several smaller files so that the document can be sent in segments that meet the court's requirements.

Scan to Network

This application allows users to quickly scan documents to custom locations on their network. Lawyers can also scan documents directly to their personal folders on the network to maintain confidentiality or to departmental folders to enhance collaboration.

Custom Screensaver

The touch screen can be customized with your law firm's logo, viewed on the operator panel background or as a screen saver when the Dell Legal Print Station is not in use. This can enhance your firm's image and professionalism, especially if the Dell Legal Print Station is located in an area that is visible to clients.

The Dell Legal Print Station is available as an option with the Dell 3333dn, 3335dn, and 5535dn Multifunction Printers
