

California State Environmental Fee (SB20)

As of January 1, 2005, the State of California has passed legislation instituting that a mandatory State Environmental Fee be collected for certain electronic products shipped directly from Dell to California. This law, referred to as the Electronic Waste Recycling Act of 2003, requires manufacturers to collect a fee for these electronic devices sold into the State of California excluding sales to resellers.

Under the current law and regulations, the following Dell branded & third party products will be subject to a State Environmental Fee:

- All laptop computers
- All CRT monitors (excluding touch screen)
- All LCD monitors (excluding touch screen)
- TV's with a screen size greater than 4 inches that contain Cathode Ray Tubes
- All CRT, LCD, and Plasma TVs with a screen size greater than 4" measured diagonally (both Dell branded and third party)
- All Portable DVD players with a screen size greater than 4" measured diagonally

In compliance with California law a State Environmental Fee will appear on your invoice based upon products selected and a ship to location of California. The fee will be applied for each eligible unit (i.e. if there are two 15" monitors shipping to California, the total State Environmental Fees applied will be $32.00).

Effective January 1, 2009, the Electronic Waste Recycling (Ewaste) Fee for all covered electronic devices (CEDs) are as follows:

- $8 per device with a screen size greater than 4" but less than 15"
- $16 per device with a screen size 15" but less than 35"
- $25 per device with a screen size 35" or greater

Resellers - You may be required to charge this fee to your customers on Covered Electronic Devices purchased from us and remit the fee to the State of California. You are responsible for understanding and complying with the Electronic Waste Recycling Act of 2003, and all other laws and regulations. Dell will not collect and remit this fee on your behalf if you have a California resale exemption certificate on file with Dell.
