

DELL EMC POST STANDARD SUPPORT

Upon the expiration of the primary support period for a specific a Dell EMC¹ hardware model, Dell EMC may, in its sole discretion, make Post Standard Support available to assist customers needing additional time to migrate to a currently supported software release or hardware model. The scope of Post Standard Support is described below. To determine if a specific Dell EMC hardware model is eligible for Post Standard Support, please reference support.DELL.com > Support By Product > Select Product. Your quote from Dell EMC will include the name of the Products, applicable Post Standard Support services and related options, if any. For additional assistance, or to request a copy of your governing agreement applicable to the Post Standard Support services, contact your Dell EMC sales representative. Your governing agreement, or, in the absence of a separately negotiated governing agreement and depending on Customer's location, this Service is provided subject to and governed by either Dell's Commercial Terms of Sale (available at: www.Dell.com/CTS) or the applicable local sales terms on your dell.com country-specific website (each, as applicable, the "Agreement"). For a copy of your agreement with your applicable Dell EMC reseller, contact that reseller. Any terms in the Agreement that conflict with or modify the Post Standard Support service (including, but not limited to, the scope of the Post Standard Support service) will not apply, but Customer Responsibilities will apply, if applicable. Capitalized terms not otherwise defined in this document will have the meaning given to them in your Agreement.

POST STANDARD SUPPORT REQUIREMENTS

1. Customer must have a current Dell EMC Support Option maintenance contract (i.e., ProSupport Plus, ProSupport, Premium, Enhanced or Basic) in place for the specific Dell EMC product or it has been recertified by Dell EMC as a prerequisite to the purchase of this Post Standard Support service.
2. Customer must ensure that the Products are in normal operating condition and Operating Environment Software on storage Products are running the most recent compatible version available as of the start of the Coverage Period evidenced on their quote, order form or other mutually-agreed upon form of invoice or order acknowledgment from Dell EMC with Dell EMC. Customer agrees to allow Dell EMC to conduct an on-site inspection of the Products and/or to install and run applicable support software (e.g. "phone home" software) to confirm that Products are in normal operating condition and, if necessary, to inventory the configuration and to obtain component serial numbers. Any service necessary to return Products to normal operating condition at the start of the coverage for this Post Standard Support service is the responsibility of the Customer.

SCOPE OF POST STANDARD SUPPORT

1. For eligible Dell EMC hardware models:
 - a. Hardware replacement parts, when deemed necessary by Dell EMC, will be shipped to customer either as a four (4) hour delivery on a 24x7 basis or next local business day response, as applicable under Customer's Agreement. Local country shipment cut-off times may impact the later than next local business day delivery of replacement parts. During the Post Standard Support period, Dell EMC installation of Customer Replacement Units (CRUs), if applicable, may be requested if Customer is directed to perform replacements by Dell EMC. Consumable parts are not covered by Post Standard Support. Dell EMC will use commercially-reasonable efforts to replace standard batteries, which may be limited in countries with import restrictions. Ensuring parts availability may require up to thirty (30) days lead time after the initial date of the initial term of this Service.
 - b. Hot fixes including security patches are not available as part of Post Standard Support for Dell EMC hardware models for the operating system/environment software, microcode and firmware which enables the eligible Dell EMC hardware models to perform their basic functions.

¹ "Dell EMC", as used in this document, means the applicable Dell sales entity ("Dell") specified on your Dell Order Form and the applicable EMC sales entity ("EMC") specified on your EMC Order Form. The use of "Dell EMC" in this document does not indicate a change to the legal name of the Dell or EMC entity with whom you have dealt.

c. Dell EMC shall not be responsible for a failure to provide support to the extent caused by: (1) any omissions, oversights, errors, or failures by Customer to perform its responsibilities described in this document; (2) problems caused by Customer software or data; (3) a defect or deficiency with respect to Customer's network, systems, or other equipment; (4) failures of hardware not maintained by Dell EMC; or (5) modifications to hardware made by a party other than Dell EMC or its representatives. Dell EMC shall notify Customer and use commercially reasonable efforts to perform notwithstanding the occurrence of one or more of the foregoing events (with Customer reimbursing Dell EMC for its additional out of pocket expenses for such efforts).

2. If Dell EMC determines that a component of the Product is defective, and is easily disconnected and reconnected, or if the analyst determines that the Product is one that should be replaced as a whole unit, Dell EMC reserves the right to send Customer a whole replacement unit however Dell EMC is not obligated to send a whole unit replacement in any circumstances unless otherwise required by local law, and will determine whether to send a whole unit replacement in Dell EMC's sole discretion. Dell EMC's obligation to perform the Post Standard Support services will be satisfied when Dell EMC has attempted any applicable service repair techniques which Dell EMC determines to be effective in resolving the support issue Customer presented to Dell EMC after contact Dell EMC for support in accordance with this Service Description, even if Dell EMC determines that the support issue Customer presented to Dell EMC cannot be resolved. Dell EMC also reserves the right to terminate and cancel the customer's contract for these Post Standard Support services if Dell EMC, in its sole and commercially reasonable discretion, determines that the Post Standard Support services cannot restore the Customer's Equipment to a level of functionality that is reasonably safe and unlikely pose an undue risk of security issues.
