ENTERPRISE PRINT AS A SERVICE

Tools to help increase efficiency and productivity within your office

Easy Printing – Predictable Costs – Expert Support

Managing print technology in an office environment can be challenging, especially with the increasing demands for efficiency, cost control, and security. If your organization is struggling with outdated equipment and unpredictable capital expenses, Canon U.S.A. has a solution for you. Our Print as a Service program is designed to simplify print management, help reduce costs, and optimize workflows. With scalable solutions tailored to your specific business needs, this program helps ensure seamless integration, enhanced productivity, and robust security features for your office environment.

What's Included:

Canon's Desktop Line-up.

Designed to meet the evolving needs of your work environment, where integrated workflow support, advanced control, outstanding performance, and robust security features are a primary consideration, Canon's desktop devices help to deliver high-quality printing to support your productivity.

These desktop devices enable users to print, scan, send, and fax with ease.<sup>1</sup> Built with advanced security features, the devices help safeguard sensitive information while ensuring smooth, reliable printing functionality across your organization.

With proactive supplies and service management, you won't have to search for toner cartridges or consumable maintenance parts. The Print as a Service Program includes routine maintenance to help ensure ongoing operational efficiency of your desktop devices.

Active reporting and life cycle management from Canon's Managed Print Consultants handle all the heavy lifting, providing you with regular updates on performance and alerts when it's time for maintenance or upgrades of your non-Canon devices. This helps to reduce downtime and ensure you're getting the most out of your desktop models.
