How to get your software license key

The screenshot shows the Dell Digital Locker website interface. At the top, there is a breadcrumb trail: "Support > Software". The main heading is "Dell Digital Locker". Below this, a welcome message reads: "Welcome to Dell Digital Locker". A sub-heading states: "The Dell Digital Locker allows you to view and manage your products, software, and licensing information in one location. You can:". This is followed by a bulleted list of capabilities: "Download purchased software", "Access licensed software products", "Download updates and patches", "Manage user and product groups", and "View software license entitlements". Below the list is a link for "Quick Start Guide". There are two buttons: "Sign In" (highlighted in blue) and "Create an Account" (grey). A note below the buttons says: "Sign in with the Dell Account used at purchase or assigned to you." At the bottom, there is a navigation bar with four links: "Product Support", "Trial Software", "Ownership Transfer", and "Order Support".

STEP 1 Open and sign into your Dell Digital Locker account

Open Products page to see all the products within your account

Open product details

The screenshot shows the 'Products' page in the Dell Digital Locker interface. A green arrow points from a callout box to the search filters. The page includes a sidebar with navigation options like 'Products', 'Order History', and 'Warranty'. The main content area has a search bar and filters for 'Key', 'Category', and 'Date Range'. Below the filters is a table of products with columns for 'Product name', 'Primary ID', 'License date', 'Order number', and 'Details'. The text 'Products are shown here' is overlaid on the table.

From this page you can open the Product Management page by selecting your product name to obtain your license

Depending on your product, some may require additional information before a license key can be provided

The screenshot shows the Dell Digital Locker interface. On the left is a navigation menu with items: Products, Product, Order History, Saved Searches, Users and Groups, Tools, Warranty, Product registration, and Help. The main content area is titled 'Dell Digital Locker' and contains a 'Product' section with fields for Name, Number, and ID. A red annotation 'Product details shown here' points to these fields. Below the product details is an 'Available Downloads' button. At the bottom of the product details section, the 'Get key:' label is present, with a blue button labeled 'Key Available for Download' highlighted in yellow. A green callout box with the text 'Get your license key' and a large green arrow points to the 'Key Available for Download' button.

To get your license key select the Key Available button

Some products need the hardware on which they are installed to be identified before a license key can be created

The screenshot shows the Dell Digital License Manager interface. A green callout box with the text "Enter hardware information" and a downward-pointing arrow is positioned over the "Product" section. The "Product" section includes fields for "Product Name", "Order number", and "Primary ID". A red annotation "Product details shown here" points to the "Product Name" field. Below these fields, there are radio buttons for "Email (license key is sent to your Dell Account email)" and "Download", along with "Submit" and "Cancel" buttons. The "Assigned to:" section contains "Bind to:" and "Re-enter ID:" fields. The "Current version:" field is at the bottom.

STEP 4 Enter any required information for your license

Some licenses are files that can downloaded or emailed

The screenshot shows the Dell Digital License Management interface. On the left is a navigation menu with items: Products, Product, Order History, Saved Searches, Users and Groups, Tools, Warranty, Product registration, and Help. The main content area is titled 'Product' and includes the following fields: Product Name, Order number, Primary ID, License Name (with a note '(Add your own custom name)' and an 'Edit' link), and License date. Below these fields are two tabs: 'Product' and 'Available Downloads'. A green callout box with the text 'Select your delivery' and a downward-pointing arrow is positioned over the 'Available Downloads' tab. A red text annotation 'Product details shown here' is placed over the 'Product Name' field. At the bottom of the page, there is an 'Assigned to:' section with radio buttons for 'Send to email' and 'Download' (which is selected), and 'Submit' and 'Cancel' buttons. The 'Current version:' field is empty.

STEP 5 Obtain your license

To obtain all your text-based license keys within an order you can open Order History then and select “Get all text-based keys”
